IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE DISTRICT OF ARIZONA

10 United States of America,

11 v. Plaintiff,

12 Samantha Rae Barrera,

13 Defendant.

14 } CR-09-385-PHX-MHM

15 } ORDER OF DETENTION

16
17 Defendant was released on her own recognizance on April 13, 2009. Pretrial
18 Services filed a Petition for Action on Conditions of Pretrial Release alleging that 19 defendant violated the terms of her release. Defendant was arrested and appears
20 before the Court with counsel.

21
22 Counsel for defendant advises the Court that defendant wishes to waive her right
23 to a hearing and admit the allegations in the petition. The Court addressed defendant
24 and advised defendant of her right to remain silent, to continued representation by 25 counsel, to provide evidence on her behalf, and the government's obligation to prove
26 that defendant violated at least one condition of release by clear and convincing
27 evidence. Defendant advised she understood these rights and confirmed that she 28 wanted to waive her right to a hearing and admit.

29
30 The Court addressed defendant regarding, the allegations in the petition and she 31 admitted the allegations.

1        The Court finds that defendant is guilty of violating her pretrial release conditions
2 and there is a factual basis for the admission. Further, that the admission was entered
3 into knowingly, intelligently, voluntarily, and without coercion or promises.
4

5        IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that the defendant's release is revoked and she
6 is detained pending further order of the Court.

7        DATED this 28th day of January, 2010.
